N.R.C. Staff:

I write to ask you to review and reconsider your proposed standards for selling nuclear waste to manufacturers. I understand that some of this material has already been sold to companies who are making products for consumption, or rather for sale and that these products carry no labeling. All consumers deserve to know what they are buying. However, the real concern is that nuclear waste would ever be considered a "sleeping profit". Please, there is no acceptable dose of radiation. I ask that you support the people of the U.S.A. rather than business interests.

Sincerely,
Forsmark
