DOCKETED
US-DOE

'99 DEC 27 A9:27

Dear Sir:

Until yesterday, I was unaware that our government was pushing the idea of recycling nuclear material to use in building materials and all other kinds of areas. To imagine this in human consequences, all I had to do was envision one's family members or friends wearing belt buckles, sitting in chairs, placing items in mouths as in the case of teething infants. The risk of deleterious effect on the body is obvious. This is an aberration in thinking and planning. Take the necessary steps to halt plans for radioactive release into consumer products. Prohibit radioactive releases in the United States and other nations. Report and recapture the wastes and materials that have already been released.
