Dear Sir:

The irreparable damage done by uranium mining must be regulated. Northwestern New Mexico and South Texas deserve more than the limited public hearings that have been allowed. Entire states have not been included in this scoping process. You need to hear from the communities in Arizona and Utah that might be impacted.

Hearings need to be held in the communities most impacted in Texas and New Mexico. Meetings in Albuquerque and Casper left most stakeholders completely out of the process.

It is time for regulatory agencies to protect communities and natural resources, not the profits of industries that pollute.

Please keep me informed of any public hearings that might be scheduled in Texas, Arizona, Utah, or New Mexico.
