Dear Ms. Conde:

This letter is to inform you that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) staff received a copy of the special radioactive material transportation certificate dated October 30, 2007, [REDACTED]

The staff received your notification [REDACTED], dated October 19, 2007 and corrected on November 5, 2007 [REDACTED]. These notifications informed the staff that the shipment would include [REDACTED] of high enriched uranium (HEU) but did not include the total quantity of U-235 in the HEU. The NRC staff is categorizing this as a shipment of special nuclear material [REDACTED]. My staff assigned you a shipping window [REDACTED]. The NRC must be promptly notified if the shipment will not arrive within this window. If this categorization is incorrect, notify the NRC in writing immediately.

Also, we have not received your notification in accordance with the requirements of Title 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations (10 CFR), Part 73, [REDACTED]. We request that you provide this information as soon as possible, so we can assign the additional shipping windows to transport the remaining material [REDACTED]
