I would like to make it very clear that the United States has enough issues dealing with its own nuclear waste I don't see any reason why we should allow the importation of waste from a foreign country. There are too many issues that can arise surrounding the long term storage of nuclear waste and the responsibility for cleaning up any issues that may arise. How would you like to have a nuclear waste dump in your backyard? No? Then don't put it in mine. If you don't have an issue with it in your backyard, fine, then put it there, but I still disagree with it being imported at all.
