Desc: WSMV requests full disclosure of the identity of the executive of Nuclear Fuel Services, Erwin Tennessee who was accused of drinking alcohol prior to a "scheduled working tour" on March 9, 2006. WSMV also requests and reports and information regarding when and in what manner that executive left the company, including details of severance pay and benefits.

Expedite_UrgencyToInformText:

Waiver_Purpose: In light of the shutdown at Nuclear Fuel Services, Erwin Tn 12/31/09, the previous serious infractions are exceptionally newsworthy and will aid in the public trust of future government reports regarding the company

Waiver_ExtentToExtractAnalyze: The name of the executive whose competency was in question, and those who might have supplied false information and remain in NFS employ should be revealed in light of the events of 12/31/09. The extraordinary events justify full disclosure to the public as NFS applies for renewal of its permits to operate, and its safety protocols remain in question.

Waiver_SpecificActivityQuals: The records will be used in news reports about the companys shutdown and continued operations in the state. As far as my qualifications, I am a 30 year veteran journalist with many investigative reporting awards and distinctions. I am also the longest serving news anchor at Nashvilles oldest Television station.

Waiver_ImpactPublicUnderstanding: Public confidence in information disseminated by NFS and the NRC on this issue is lacking, as nearly 4 years expired before confirmatory orders were issued. With the company again in a controversial position, full disclosure is owed to the public, and that means naming the individual (s) involved and disciplined.

Waiver_NatureOfPublic: All citizens of Tennessee, whose state licenses the activities of NFS, any and all who are interested and affected by the US military which is supplied by NFS, and ultimately all Americans whose safety hinges in many ways on the nuclear world.

Waiver_MeansOfDissemination: through television reporting and via the WSMV website.

Waiver_FreeToPublicOrFee: Free, via broadcast television and the television station website

Waiver_PrivateCommericalInterest: n/a
