Subject: Background and Preliminary Assumptions for an Environmental Impact Statement – Long Term Waste Confidence Update

Comment:

This seems like another bonehead solution out of Harry Reid's office. Distribute nuclear waste around the nation to create a security nightmare rather than store it underground in Nevada and be done with it. Managing one site would seem to make a lot more sense for the security and energy future of the United States.

Has the NRC gone mad? The Commissioners (-Jaczko) has the right idea. Now it's time for the entire staff to do what is right! This isn't it!
