1/9/2012 (16:30) I spoke with Mr. Onofrio about the company's progress towards converting their XRF device from specific to general license status. Mr. Onofrio stated that the labels had been received on January 6, 2012, and were put on the device on the same day. The gauge was kept in storage the whole time that they were awaiting the labels. I confirmed the address and informed Mr. Onofrio of the letter that I would be writing where the NRC would be exercising discretion in not citing a violation for their possession of licensed material without a specific license from November 2007 until January 6, 2012. I wished him good luck with his program.
