Subject: Shine isotope proposed project in Janesville,WI hearing 2-23-12

Hello again,

I just checked out the Beloit ,WI. Northstar Medical Technologies isotope company.They will not be using any uranium in their isotope production. This is a much safer production method than the proposed Shine isotope facility in Janesville,WI. Northstar would have far less by-product & hazardous waste and other danger of accidents,etc and no security concerns, than the proposed Shine project in Janesville.

I know that the nrc is very concerned with uranium by-[product waste, storage and long term danger and problems, as are the citizens of Janesville and the surrounding area. So my question is, why would you approve, permit and license such dangerous outdated, expensive technology as Shine proposes, that we are all trying to get beyond?

Please do not allow this outdated Shine project and its already outdated technogy and endanger the best farm land and drinking water in the nation, right here in Rock County, when we already will have a much saver isoptope facilty with far less danger only 12 miles away from Janesville. We have food and dairy and pheasant farms all around. In my opinion approving Shines uranium produced isoptopes would be irresponsible, when isotopes can be produced much cheaper, safer and much less waste by-products, including no uranium waste.

Shines needs to develope similiar product processes as Belot's Nothstar Medical Technlgies, without using expensive uranium in its production. with all the inherent problems. Another point is that Northstar had already proved their production method with successful production run, where shine has no proof that their outdated methods would even work. We don't want to be a dangerous production, storage and dumping area of hazardous & nuclear waste in the richest soil and dairyland in the world., here in Rock County. Check it out.

Please read and share with your fellow members of the nrc at your Feb.23rd meeting as input from one who is apposed to Shines project in Janesville,WI.

Please add to the official record of the meeting. along with my earlier email.Thank

You,

AL Lembrich
