Subject: Indian Point

Gentlemen,

Must we have another Fukushima, but many thousands of times worse? Any accident or terrorist act at Indian Point would affect 15 to 20,000,000 people, and probably make New York City and Westchester unlivable for hundreds of years. And does anyone believe there is a possibility of even minor evacuation of these huge populations?

Aside from the reactor itself, there is a very large radioactive waste from prior operations. Any accident here would undoubtedly be the worst radioactive exposure of all time.

Please be rational and avoid this highly dangerous, aging reactor.
